

2

Ask each of your partners for the following information:

favourite film star	favourite fruit
place of birth	what time they left home today
mother's first name	when they usually have dinner
favourite sport

Don't make any notes, but rely on your memory. It's your turn s e c o n d.

Later you'll have to check with your partners whether you can remember the information correctly, by asking questions like this:

"Your favourite film star is Burt Reynolds, isn't he?"

1

Ask each of your partners for the following information:

favourite colour	favourite drink
birthday	how they came to school father's first name	what their jobs are hobbies

Don't make any notes, but rely on your memory. It's your turn f i r s t.

Later you'll have to check with your partners whether you can remember the information correctly, by asking questions like this:

"Your favourite colour's pink, isn't it?"

3

Ask each of your partners for the following information:

favourite singer or musician	favourite city or town
name of street they live in	name of best friend
names of brothers or sisters	lucky number
what time they got up this morning

Don't make any notes, but rely on your memory. It's your turn l a s t.

Later you'll have to check with your partners whether you can remember the information correctly by asking questions like this:

"You got up at 7 this morning, didn't you?"